DOCTORS DISAGREE

As to the Character of the Bone

Upon Which Hangs the Fate of the Big Sausage Maker—Allport Says It Came From a Hog.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Public interest in the Luetgert murder trial continues with unabated intensity. All streets seem to lead to the criminal court building.

Luetgert was in good spirits again. The testimony of Dr. Allport yesterday afternoon was greatly to the big sausage maker's liking. Dr. Allport declared the femur, which Prof. George Dorsey, of the Field Columbian Museum, identified as that of a human, was the femur of a hog. Dr. Allport is a professor of descriptive and comparative anatomy in the Northwestern university. The dispute between these two eminent authorities as to the bones has brought about a crisis in the case. If the jury believes Dr. Allport, the conclusion can hardly be escaped that no human body was boiled in the vat in Luetgert's factory.

When Dr. Allport went on the witness stand again today he created another sensation by declaring that the temporal bone which Professor Dorsey identified as human and from its formation probably the right temporal bone of a female, is not human. Dr. Allport emphatically remarked that there was no indication upon which to base the conclusion that the bone was from the skull of a human being. He believed it came from the skull of some lower animal. He also declared that the phalanges in evidence belonged to the lower animal kingdom.

Dr. Allport did not know what was in store for him in the cross-examination. Prof. Dorsey had prepared for the prosecution a list of questions that stirred the Northwestern University professor when they were propounded by Assistant State Attorney McEwen. The questions were bristling with technicalities and were framed with a view to testing Dr. Allport's knowledge of Osteology. Dr. Allport had prepared for the defense the cross-examination of Prof. Dorsey and the latter evened matters with a vengeance today.

Dr. Allport made a statement on the witness stand today that caused a profound sensation for a few minutes. He was examining the temporal bone which had been identified by Prof. Dorsey and pronounced by the latter not only a temporal bone but the temporal bone of a woman.

"That bone is not a temporal bone either of a human or of the lower order of animals," declared Dr. Allport, gazing at the exhibit intently.

"It is a composition of bones put together by artificial means. The trace here which Professor Dorsey said was the outline of a facial nerve, is a fibre of animal matter with which the bones are stuck together."

The statement was received with something akin to dismay by the prosecution for a moment. Luetgert leaned back in his chair and laughed.

Assistant State's Attorney McEwen began a hot cross examination of the witness.

NEARLY A MILLION

Was the Damage Done by Fire in Washington.

The Capital Traction Company's Power House [illegible] Largest Fire in the City's History.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Fire broke out in the central power station of the Capital Traction company a few minutes before 11 o'clock last night, and in thirty minutes the magnificent six-story structure was doomed. The building occupies the entire block from Pennsylvania avenue to C street, and from Thirteen and One-half street to Fourteenth street.

Firemen were still playing on the ruins of the power station at 8 o'clock this morning. Nothing remains of the massive six-story structure save a part of two walls of the building. The fire was one of the largest ever known in Washington, and nothing approaching from a spectacular point of view ever has been seen in this city, where large fires are rare occurrences. The exact cause of the fire remains unknown, though it has been established that it broke out in Gettinger's printing office, on the second floor. The amount of the loss has not been computed with approximate accuracy this morning, but it is roughly estimated that it will exceed three-quarters of a million dollars and that the loss of the Capital Traction company will be $600,000 or more, of which a quarter of a million was caused by the destruction of the building and the remainder by loss of machinery and equipment. The company carried in the neighborhood of $200,000 insurance in local and out-of-town companies.

VAST INLAND SEA.

Waters of the Gulf of California Flooding Salton Basin.

PHOENIX, Ari., Sept. 30.—A dispatch from Tucson says that passengers who came in on the belated California train state that the cause of the delay were floods in the Salton basin. It was the rumored belief that the waters of the Gulf of California had broken over the sand bar which separates the gulf from the basin. If this should prove to be true southern California will have the largest inland sea on the continent, some places more than 300 feet deep, and a rise would come up through the gulf to a point opposite Yuma to a port of the inland seas. In the meantime many miles of the Southern Pacific would be submerged.

RALLY FOR SILVER.

White Metal Hosts Gather at Monroeville.

Governor Matthews Given a Warm Welcome—Thousands of Silver Men Attend the Picnic.

MONROEVILLE, Ind., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Monroeville never before witnessed such an outpouring of citizens from the surrounding country as it has today, the occasion being the silver meeting to be held here this afternoon at Robison's grove, east of town. Since early morning crowds have been surging toward the main street of the town and at 10 o'clock that thoroughfare was literally jammed from end to end.

Trains, vehicles and bicycles have been utilized to carry the thousands who have gathered to renew their allegiance to the white metal. Delegations from surrounding townships have been arriving every few minutes escorted by bands. Banners of W. J. Bryan are to be seen everywhere.

Enthusiasm is at its highest pitch. Processions are moving toward the grove, where an immense crowd has gathered.

Former Governor Claude Matthews, the principal orator of the day, arrived on the special train from Fort Wayne at 10 o'clock. He was recognized at once by the surging mass of humanity who surrounded the depot and was given an ovation, cheer upon cheer going up for the former governor.

The special from Fort Wayne was made up of five coaches and brought here over 300 passengers. At the depot they formed in line and escorted by A. O. U. W. band marched to the grove where they were accorded a rousing welcome. The former governor and Judge Edward O'Rourke occupied a carriage and were given the place of honor in the procession. Mr. Matthews was obliged to acknowledge by repeated bows the noisy welcome given him.

The best of order is maintained and the crowd is in good humor. Arrangements by the local committee have been made to entertain and feed 5,000 people and they expect to do so.

MORE FEVER.

Yellow Jack Appears in the Town of Clinton.

Seven Cases Already Reported and More Are Likely to Follow—The Epidemic Elsewhere.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 30.—The state board of health has just received a telegram from Clinton, ten miles west of here and midway between this city and Edwards, acknowledging that there are seven cases of yellow fever at that place.

The state board has been trying for three days to send Dr. Dunn from Edwards to Clinton, but the plan has miscarried on account of the refusal of the people of Bolton to allow the expert to pass through that place. As a result of this lack of co-operation with the state board, Dr. Hunter, the health officer at Bolton, has resigned. It is feared the delay in getting an expert to Clinton will result in the widespread of the disease at that point.

The Illinois Central railroad is arranging to run a special train to McRaven, two miles from Clinton, in order to carry northward those people who desire to leave Clinton.

EDWARDS, Miss., Sept., 30.—Dr. Dunn, of the state board of health, reports up to 10 o'clock this morning two new cases of yellow fever have been reported.

Most of the cases reported seriously ill last evening rested very well last night, but are still dangerously sick.

CARMEN'S STRIKE.

Many of the Men Refuse to Participate—The Police Ordered to Be Ready for Calls.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—Arrangements have been completed for a conference between Mayor Harrison and officials of the Chicago City Railway company this evening to discuss the threatened strike of street car employes. The arrangement was the result of a telephone conversation between the mayor and President Wheeler. The latter appeared anxious to confer with the mayor, notwithstanding the reports that the railway officials would refuse to take part in the proposed meeting.

It is evident that there is not the unanimity among the employes that has been claimed. A secret meeting was held last night, attended by 200 of the 345 men employed on the State street line, at which it was voted to neither strike nor affiliate with the proposed union. Other meetings will be held tonight, it is said, with the same purpose in view.

Chief of Police Kipley issued a general order today commanding every member of the police department to be held in readiness until further orders for a call to immediate duty in the event of a street car strike being declared.

TO WASHINGTON

President McKinley and His Family Return.

The Trip Made Without Important Incident—Secretary Sherman Immediately Consults the President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—President McKinley and party arrived in Washington at 10 o'clock this morning over the Pennsylvania road. The return trip was made without incident. Quite a crowd gathered at the station to witness the homecoming.

Both the president and Mrs. McKinley acknowledged the greeting by smiling and bowing pleasantly to those who were assembled. They then entered carriages and were driven to the white house. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. McKinley the party consisted of Attorney General and Mrs. McKenna; Miss Mabel McKinley, the daughter of Abner McKinley; Mrs. McKinley's maid and Mr. Cortelyou, one of the white house clerks.

Postmaster General Gary boarded the train at Baltimore and rode to Washington with the president. Mr. McKinley hardly reached the white house before Secretary of State Sherman appeared and held a brief consultation with him, presumably in reference to the fall of the Spanish cabinet.

HEAD TO NECK.

Boston-Baltimore Race Grows More Exciting.

Bostonians Won From Bridegrooms and Orioles Defeated Senators Yesterday—Gossip of the Game.

The race between Baltimore and Boston for the pennant continues to be the most exciting incident of the week. Baltimore is head to Boston's neck and both are playing every minute for blood. Boston won easily yesterday from the Brooklyn's and Baltimore took a tight game from the Washington's. The Senators outbatted the Orioles nearly two to one, but McJames' wildness and the superior work of the Baltimores on the bases made it a victory for the three times champions. Boston has two more games with the Brooklyns and Baltimore three more with the Washington's. Neither team can now afford to lose a game while the other wins. Boston must have today's and tomorrow's games to keep the lead she now has if Baltimore wins the entire series from Washington. While the almost universal hope of the base ball world is with Boston, there is no danger that Brooklyn will lay down to Boston in order to insure the pennant to the Beaneaters. There is also a rivalry between Brooklyn and Washington for sixth place and both teams are anxious to finish in the first division. Yesterday's scores were:

Brooklyn.... 1 1 1 0 1 0 0 0—4
Boston.... 0 0 2 1 1 1 1 4 2—12

Hits—Brooklyn, 5; Boston, 11. Errors—Brooklyn, 7; Boston, 3. Batteries—Kennedy, Payne and Burrell; Lewis and Bergen.

Baltimore.... 1 2 1 0 0 2 0 0 *—6
Washington.... 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 0 0—3

Hits—Baltimore, 8; Washington, 11. Errors—Baltimore, 3; Washington, 2. Batteries—Nops and Clark; McJames and Farrell.

New York.... 2 3 0 0 0 0 2 0 *—7
Philadelphia.... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1

Hits—New York, 8; Philadelphia, 11. Errors—Philadelphia, 5. Batteries—Rusie, Seymour and Warner; Taylor and Clements.

NOTES.

"Chic" Stahl had three hits in yesterday's game, two of them two-baggers.

Both the star outfield finds of the year, Stahl and Gettman, are Germans. With their work, and the laurels won by Klobedanz and Nops, this is indeed a banner year for Germany.

Hoffmeister continues to put up a game that is the despair of the Pittsburg people. Three hits, including a triple and home run, and three errors, is a fair sample of the sort of mingled ball he is playing these days.

There is much laughter down east over the first assist ever recorded from center field to first base on a batsman. Hillary Swaim was the victim. He hit one to center, Van Haltren scooped it, and found Hillary running so slowly that he actually sent the ball to first, and got it there ahead of the long legged runner.

What has become of Sockalexis? Is it possible that the red has again looked upon the fire-water? And where is Belden, whom Tebeau picked up off the Cleveland lots? Harry Blake is back in his old position, and may be seen there again next year. Pickering will surely hold center, for his batting has been superb since joining the Indians.

Youngstown Telegram: "'Goat' Fitch is home from Fort Wayne and says that when he took leave of Peck Sharp the double jointed second baseman had tears in his eyes. 'Tell my friends in Youngstown,' said Peck when he bade 'Goat' good bye, 'that I am going to my winter wigwam in the wilds of Iowa, but next spring when the flowers bloom and the birds sing and the trees blossom and the frost comes out of the ground, tell them I am coming back to God's country to play ball in the Inter-State, the best league I have played in since the war, and that old Peck will be the only rez in the crate at second base.'"

SPANISH AFFAIRS

Take On a Most Serious Aspect.

The Outcome Watched With Intense Interest by All Who Sympathize With Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The news of the resignation of the Spanish cabinet created much interest here. A telegram from Madrid states that American affairs did not bring on the crisis, but that it was due entirely to internal politics, of which the excommunication of Senor Navarro Reverter, minister of finance in the fallen cabinet, formed a part. This fact has been previously mentioned in the cable dispatches.

RESIGNATIONS ACCEPTED.

MADRID, Sept. 30.—As a result of the interviews General Azcarraga, the retiring premier, and General Polavieja have had with the queen regent, her majesty has become convinced that it is impossible to reunite the conservatives in order to form a strong ministry; therefore, she has accepted the resignations of the ministers.

AGE AND YOUTH JOINED.

Dr. Chenoweth, Aged 84, Married to Rosa Hill, Aged 16, at Muncie.

MUNCIE, Sept. 30.—Last night, at the home of the bride's mother, just north of the city, Dr. Nelson D. Chenoweth, aged eighty-four, and for more than forty years a practicing physician at Hartford City, was married to Miss Rosa Hill, aged sixteen, and one of the prettiest young women in the city.

YELLOW FEVER SCARE.

People of Crawford County Take Fright—It Is Not Yellow Fever.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 30.—There is considerable excitement at Milltown, Crawford county, over a supposed case of yellow fever, but Dr. Hazelwood is of the opinion that the case is not genuine. The state board of health has not yet been notified that there are any cases of yellow fever in Indiana.

THEY HAVE ELOPED.

Mrs. Mary Gill Deserts Her Husband for James Clear.

Roann Society Torn by a Sensation—An Anderson Matron Elopes on a Tandem With an Old Lover.

WABASH, Ind., Sept. 30.—James Clear, a widower aged fifty-five, has lately been paying addresses to Mrs. Mary Gill, aged thirty-five, wife of a prominent citizen of Roann, this county. Yesterday Clear called while Mr. Gill was at home. Mrs. Gill told her husband that a man down town wished to see him and he departed. Immediately Clear and Mrs. Gill drove rapidly away, it is supposed to Peru or Rochester. A photograph of the woman has been sent to each place with instructions to detain her. Mr. Gill is almost heartbroken over his wife's desertion.

ANDERSON, Ind., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Charles Carter, of Chesterfield, and "Del" Crane, a traveling man for a Michigan lumber firm, have eloped on a bicycle built for two. Years ago, before she became Mrs. Carter, they were lovers. He called at the Carter home Tuesday afternoon. She put on her best riding dress, collected a few of her trinkets and left with Crane. When last seen they were pedaling over a hill ten miles north of here.

CHINA'S FINANCES.

Fresh Fall in Silver Influences the Situation.

An American Syndicate, Including J. P. Morgan, Negotiating to Loan Money to the Chinese Government.

LONDON, Sept. 30—The Times this morning publishes a long letter on the financial situation in China. Among other things the writer says the fresh fall in silver has wiped out the margin for hypothecation which remained out of the customs revenue.

Continuing, the letter says: "China is using a new loan credit to pay the balance of the Japanese indemnity before 1898 and the treasury profits to the extent of two and three-quarter millions, aside from the Japanese evacuation of Wei Hai Wei. China is negotiating with England and with the United States consul general, who represents a powerful American syndicate, including J. Pierpont Morgan and several minor financiers, is laying off one against the other. The fact that the Hooley syndicate signed a preliminary contract need not be taken as conclusive that there is any intention to raise sixteen millions in that quarter. As a matter of fact, at the date of writing, Sheng is still receiving overtures from the Americans and has been receiving these ever since the signing of the preliminary contract."

A SILVER MAN

Will be Appointed to Succeed the Late Judge Kilgore.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The president today will announce the appointment of ex-Representative Hosea Townsend, of Silver Cliff, Col., as United States judge for the southern judicial district of the Indian territory to succeed the late Judge Kilgore. Mr. Townsend is a straight out republican and, although a believer in free coinage supported Mr. McKinley and the republican ticket in the last election notwithstanding the bolt of Senator Teller and other leading silver republicans.

Adam Holtzhauer Fatally Stabs Robert Reed at Dayton.

DAYTON, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Adam Holtzhauer, a baker, stabbed Robert Reed, a colored waiter at the Hotel Beckel at 5:30 this morning. Reed died in a few minutes.

Holtzhauer is a German, aged thirty-five years, and has a wife and three children. He is under arrest. He claims that Reed abused him and tried to strike him on the head with a dish and that he stabbed Reed in self defense. The dead man was twenty-six years of age and well known, being formerly head waiter at another hotel.

His partners in this enterprise are fifteen Chicago business men. Mr. Wolfe has made arrangements with P. D. Armour for everything needed in the provision line. Mr. Wolfe will be remembered as the only person who ever succeeded in pulling off a genuine Mexican bull fight in the United States. This Wolfe succeeded in doing at Gillett in the summer of 1895.

BANK ROBBERS.

Three of the Curry Gang Are in Jail.

Frank Jones, Tom Jones and Walt Putney Compose the Trio and They Were Hard to Capture.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Sept. 30.—Officers have arrived in the Hole-in-the-Wall country, having in their custody the three missing Belle Fourche bank robbers. Their capture was only effected after a lively fight, in which one of the robbers, Frank Jones, was wounded in the arm. The men, who give their names as Frank Jones, Tom Jones and Walt Putney, deny any connection with the robbery of the Belle Fourche bank, or that they are members of the Curry gang so badly wanted in the northwest for various crimes. One of the posse which arrested them was a witness to the hold-up and is positive that they are the right men. They will be held in the Deadwood jail for safe keeping. All danger of trouble from a mob is passed.

DARK AT DECATUR.

City Authorities Cut Down Electric Light Poles and Cripple the System.

DECATUR, Ind., Sept. 30.—Some time during Tuesday night the city council held a secret session and is said to have passed a resolution ordering the marshal to proceed at once and remove from the streets all the poles, wires and electric lights of J. D. Edwards. Mr. Edwards owns and operates the only electric light plant here and has done so for about ten years, but yesterday morning he awoke to find his property in ruins. The marshal and street commissioner with gangs of workmen proceeded about 2 o'clock in the morning and sawed every pole down, destroying the poles, wires and lamps. Last night the city was in total darkness. Just why the officials destroyed the light plant in the dead hour of night is not apparent, but it is being condemned. Mr. Edwards will institute both civil and criminal suits against the city.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 30.—A special from Columbus says: Gen. A. J. Warner, of Marietta, in an interview published here today formally announces his candidacy for the United States senate at the hands of the Ohio legislature to be elected this fall.

LOCAL LINES.

John B. Lassus, of the Lake Shore hotel, has gone to Hillsdale, Mich., to attend the county fair.

G. W. Paxley today reported that thieves had carried away several valuable plants from his premises, 94 West Wayne street. The police have the case in hand.

William Friend, of this city, will play the principal comedy role in the Sporting Duchess this season. This company is one of the strongest in the country, and contains such celebrated actors as Rose Coghlan, Cora Tanner, J. H. Stoddard, Jefferson Lewis, Walter Lacy and Lewis Massen.

The state medical board, at Indianapolis, was occupied all day yesterday in listening to testimony in nine different cases where applications for licenses had been held up. All were persons who had practiced medicine for many years under county licenses, but were unable to satisfy the board that they had originally acquired a professional education up to the standard set. Among the cases before the board was that of A. F. Schultz, of this city. His case was taken under advisement.

POLICE PICKINGS.

Thomas Stevens, Once Wealthy, Now Fallen.

Two Runaway Boys Detained and Will be Taken Home. Bert Schram a Soldier Boy Would Be.

The case attracting the most attention at police court this morning was that of Thomas Stevens, now poverty-stricken and fallen under the weakness of drink, but once wealthy and prominent. Late yesterday afternoon Officer Greer arrested Stevens for drunkenness. Mayor Scheerer did not feel disposed to punish the man, as it was his first appearance before him, and he suspended sentence. The discharged prisoner promised to reform.

RUNAWAY LADS.

Charles Lage, aged fourteen years, and Barney Phelps, aged twelve, arrived in the city yesterday, having made the trip from Hanover, Mich., in a freight car. They were runaways and the officers were on the lookout for them long before the arrival of the train. "Buck" Langard went over to the Lake Shore station last evening and took the lads in custody. They were locked up over night and this morning sent to the Lamont hotel to be kept under surveillance until the arrival of a brother, who will take them home.

WANTS TO BE A SOLDIER.

Bert Schram, a stranger, who was acting in a suspicious manner, was taken to the police station this morning to give an account of himself. The mayor was absent so Officer "Bob" Dickens acted in capacity of magistrate, while City Editor John Dougall assumed the role of prosecuting attorney. Prosecutor Dougall made a fiery argument and tried to send up the trembling prisoner for life but he was called down by the acting mayor. Then the prisoner was told to explain his presence here. Between sobs he said that he had made a mistake at Grand Rapids and got on the wrong train. He wanted to go to Fort Wayne, Mich., and join the regular army, there being a recruiting station there. The train he boarded brought him to this city instead, the similarity of names causing the mistake. The young man was given some good advice by Superintendent Gorsline, who has been in the regular army himself, and was then told to go.

TIRED OF HOME.

The police are searching for a sixteen-year-old girl named Eva Hawkins, who ran away from her home at Paulding, Ohio, and came to this city. Her brother, E. M. Hawkins, a business man of Paulding, is in the city assisting in the search. He says that the girl threatened to come to Fort Wayne, saying that she was tired of the hum-drum life of home, but the family did not think she was serious in the matter. Eva is still in short dresses, and quite a pretty brunette. She will probably be found and taken home.

AUTUMN FESTIVAL.

Something New by the Grace Church Young People.

REVIVAL MEETINGS

At the North Side Mission are Creating Much Interest.

The revival meetings this week at the North Side mission on St. Mary's avenue have been attracting much attention in that part of the city and are creating a great deal of interest among the Christian people over there. Last night the building was well filled and the Rev. L. L. Henson preached a short sermon on the text, "Choose You This Day Whom You Will Serve." After the sermon he pleaded with the unconverted to decide that night whether they would serve God or Mammon, for he said we must serve one or the other—we cannot serve both. Thirteen young persons came forward expressing a desire to become followers of Christ and several others asked for the prayers of the Christian people that they might be able to understand the call of God and make up their minds to become Christians. The meetings commence promptly at 7:30 and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Fred S. Blenis, of the Pacific Tea Company Will Leave Us.

John Nevin, auditor of the Union Pacific Tea company, is in the city today to complete the matter of transferring the management of the Fort Wayne store from Fred S. Blenis to A. W. Osterhage. Mr. Blenis, who has been here since April 10, 1896, has been transferred by his own request to the store at Topeka, Kas., and his successor, Mr. Osterhage, has been transferred from the store at Zanesville, Ohio, to this city. Mr. Blenis has, during his stay, made a large number of friends, and has built up the business to greater proportions than ever in its history. Mr. Blenis will leave with Mr. Nevin this evening to enter upon his new charge. Mr. Osterhage, the new manager, is a genial gentleman and will make friends.

SEVERED AN ARTERY

Charles Aulls Injured While Cutting Corn.

While Making a Deep Gash In His Leg—Mrs. Blondell Has Her Thumb Torn Off.

Charles Aulls, a laborer on the McCulloch farm, was almost fatally injured while cutting corn yesterday. The blade of the implement he was using inflicted a deep gash in one leg, severing an artery. Before help arrived Aulls nearly bled to death. He will recover.

THUMB TORN OFF.

Mrs. Blondell, of South Harrison street, while trying to master a refractory cow, lost control of the animal and the rope she held was wrapped around her hand in such a manner that she could not free herself. She was dragged some distance and her thumb was torn out from the socket. Dr. Kahl performed an operation for amputation.

LAPP SCORES A "WHITEWASH."

For several days Lieutenant Lapp and Patrol Driver Doyle have been giving the police station a beautiful coat of whitewash. The high decorations were done in the lieutenant's faultless style. This afternoon, as he was making an artistic sweep with his brush, he overbalanced, tipping over the scaffolding and letting himself down with a thud that awakened the echoes through the city building. The pail of whitewash went down with the wreck and the contents thereof spilled over the officer. Fortunately he was not injured.

This afternoon was the time set for the sale to the highest bidder of certain bank stocks and other securities forming part of the assets of the estate of the late Oscar Simons. The sale was to have been held at the court house, but a petition was filed in the superior court this morning asking for a postponement of the sale, M. W. Simons and others being the petitioners. It was set forth that the sale at this time, owing to certain complications could not result advantageously. In the stocks listed for sale was about $100,000 of shares in the First National and the Old National banks of this city. Judge Dawson granted a postponement of sixty days.

STOLE OATS.

Dick Schreck and Ernest Buering Arrested for Committing Theft.

Today Deputy Sheriff Gladieux arrested Dick Schreck and Ernest Buering for theft of several bushels of oats from William Brase.

The thieves committed their depredations last night and this morning and sold the grain at the Smith feed mill on Fairfield avenue. They got drunk with the proceeds. Both are well known to the officers and Schreck in particular is an old offender. Jeff Myers was with them when the arrest was made and was taken to jail.

Temple Attractions for the Week—Renfrow's "Jolly Pathfinders."

The return of a party of American colored people from Liberia with stories of starvation and suffering in that country will create no surprise. The Liberian colony has always been more or less a failure from the time it was established in the early part of the century until the present time. The climate is bad and the experiment has demonstrated, moreover, that the colored race is not apt to progress if not environed by Caucasian civilization.

That Benjamin Harrison desires no further part in the activities of politics has been indicated more than once since his marriage. An effort has been made to get him to return to Indianapolis to participate in the present city campaign, at least in time for the final meeting. It is now announced, however, that the ex-president will not only take no part in the campaign, but that he will not even return home in time to vote. It was only after great pressure had been brought to bear that Mr. Harrison was persuaded to take part in the national campaign a year ago.

Ding Cie Sui, of FooChow, China, is leading his countrymen in a new [illegible] enterprise by his inventive genius. Ding Cie Sui has invented a machine for spinning cotton, and has lately filed an application for a patent in the United States Patent office through his attorneys. He will shortly file a second application for additional improvements on his invention. The machine marks a departure in methods of cotton spinning, and is said to give evidence of great ingenuity on the part of the Chinaman, who has developed a large element of originality in spite of having been born and reared in a nation of imitators, where age is regarded as the prime virtue of ideas and methods.

In the course of a sermon at the installation of Bishop Trobec, the new bishop, the Cloud, Archbishop Ireland, after calling the attention to the many nationalities in the diocese of St. Cloud, said: "It has sometimes been said that there is among Catholics in America a diversity of opinion as to the use within the Catholic church of foreign languages. Americans and Catholics will before this altar of truth believe and assert that men are free to speak what language they will, to retain what memories they will, provided that always America and the language of America and American institutions obtain their best loyalty. Catholics in America may kneel before their God and pray in the language that best expresses their emotions."

The members of the monetary commission are holding daily sessions in Washington, laying out the program for the work that is before them. Their discussions are informal, but will get down to systematic work now that the sub-committees which will have charge of the various branches of the investigation to be made have been announced. There will be three of these sub-committees—one on gold and silver, which will investigate the subject of our basic money, the extent of the use of silver, etc.; one on United States notes, which will investigate the several classes of outstanding United States notes, the advisability of retiring the greenbacks, etc., and one on banking, the duty of which will be to consider and formulate a banking scheme which will meet the demands and requirements of the country. As the discussion has proceeded the members realize the wide scope of the investigation upon which they are entering and are beginning to doubt their ability to complete their labors and submit their report before congress assembles.

Working in Woman's Interest.

The Washington Post, noting the transfer of clerks in the pension office, says: "Commissioner Evans has transferred twenty two clerks in the pension bureau from the division of special examinations to the middle division. The object of this transfer, according to the understanding in the bureau, is to expedite the Ohio cases now pending, and to reply without delay to all congressional inquiries in regard to the status of these cases. For example, if any inquiry is received in the morning mail from an Ohio congressman the aim will be to secure the desired information and mail the reply in the evening. Thus the old soldiers in the Buckeye state who have applications on file for pensions are the subjects of especial consideration, for the time being at least. After the November election the usual routine of office procedure will be resumed, no doubt."

NORTHERN INDIANA NOTES.

Goshen has passed a curfew ordinance and children under fifteen must go home early.

Frank Rody will soon begin the publication of a weekly newspaper at Topeka, Lagrange county.

David Anderson, of Steuben county, is dying from injuries received two years ago from a falling tree.

A week old infant was found in a basket in the Wabash depot yard at Peru, Tuesday morning. The babe had been so heavily drugged with laudanum that it died shortly after being found. There is no clue to the parents of the child.

The little village of Hobart, ten miles west of Valparaiso, is alarmed over the prevalence of diphtheria. The schools have been ordered closed by the county board of health. Five deaths have occurred since Tuesday and fifteen cases are reported.

Leopold Patch, a fireman at the Wabash paper mill, had one of his eyes destroyed yesterday by the explosion of a water glass, a piece of which lodged in the eye ball. Eight years ago Patch, while employed in a woolen mill, fell into a vat of boiling water and was almost fatally scalded, and a year ago he was dangerously burned in the furnace room of the paper mill.

When the bids for paving with asphalt Wabash Canal and Market streets were opened in the city council at Wabash it was found that the Barber company, the Indiana Bermudez and the Chicago Bermudez propositions were identical, and all tenders were rejected. The Barber company then asked for another opportunity to bid, but the council will now ask for proposals on macadam and brick.

Workmen engaged in laying a trunk sewer at Mishawaka have unearthed a fairly compact stone wall at a depth ranging from ten to fifteen feet, composed of large stones, quite regularly laid, some of them weighing several hundred pounds. Thus far about 100 feet in length of this wall has been uncovered from the overlaying sand, and it is totally unlike anything ever before seen in that locality. The oldest inhabitant can not explain its presence, and it is credited to the work of prehistoric times.

No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. AMONG THE LODGES.

The Second Masonic Lodge in Fort Wayne.

It Was Summit City, No. 170, of Which a History Is Here Given—Gossip in Fraternal Circles.

It was on the 11th day of May, 1854, that a meeting of master masons was held in the hall of Brother Peter Kiser's building in this city for the purpose of taking into consideration the propriety of petitioning the M. W. grand master of masons of the state of Indiana to form a new lodge in Fort Wayne.

Brother W. S. Smith was called to act as chairman and F. S. Aveline as secretary. On motion of Brother Y. Day a resolution was adopted that a committee be appointed to prepare a suitable petition asking the M. W. grand master, H. C. Lawrence, to grant a dispensation empowering the following named persons to form a new lodge in this city to be known as Summit City lodge: R. C. Newman, Y. Day, C. Case, C. Bond, W. S. Smith, D. W. Maples, C. Hanna, F. S. Aveline, D. Comparet, Richard McMullen.

The report was concurred in and the committee ordered to lay said petition before Wayne lodge at its next regular meeting asking said lodge to recommend the petition to the favorable consideration of the M. W. grand master which they did.

On the 9th day of June, 1854, A. L. 5854, the petitioners met for the purpose of forming the new lodge under the dispensation, which was dated May 31, 1854, and opened a lodge of master masons in due and ancient form with Brother Charles Case as first W. M.; Francis Aveline as first S. W.; Y. Day as first J. W. The dispensation was then read and unanimously accepted. Brother Sol D. Bayles, W. M., of Wayne lodge No. 25, then declared Summit City lodge U. D. duly organized as a legal lodge U. D. to confer the degrees of the Blue lodge on all those accepted in regular form.

On June 16 a lodge of Master Masons was opened, this being the first regular meeting of Summit City lodge U. D., when two petitions were received and referred to separate committees and on the first day of July of this year the first master mason degree was conferred by this lodge. The lodge made arrangements with Wayne lodge to meet in the same hall with them in Peter Kiser's building and in succeeding years they moved several times.

The first election of the lodge resulted as follows: C. Case, W. M.; F. S. Aveline, S. W.; W. S. Smith, J. W.; D. W. Maples, treasurer; S. S. Bass, secretary; H. J. Rudisill, S. D.; R. C. F. Raybonner, J. D.; A. Fisher, tyler.

On July 6, 1877, a proposition was made to the different Masonic lodges to build a Masonic hall. A committee was appointed, but nothing was done until Feb. 1, 1878, when the matter was again brought up and the masons were requested to aid in the organization of the proposed Masonic Temple association.

On Tuesday, September 16th, 1879, the lodge met for the purpose of attending the laying of the corner stone of the new Masonic Temple, which was performed at high twelve by M. W., grand master of Masons of the state of Indiana, Bellamy S. Sutton, in due and ancient form. All of the Masonic lodges of the city meet at the Masonic Temple now.

Summit City lodge, No. 170, has the largest membership of any blue lodge in the city and the fourth largest in the state.

W. C. McNutt, the present worshipful master of Summit City lodge, was elected to receive the degree at the regular meeting in October, 1890, received the M. M. degree November 28, 1890, was elected M. W. of the lodge at the regular meeting in December, 1895, and re-elected in December, 1896, to the second term. He was elected to receive the degree of Fort Wayne chapter, No. 19, R. A. M., and was elected scribe at their annual meeting in December, 1896. He was elected to receive the degree of Fort Wayne council No. 4, R. & S. M., in February, 1894, and was elected illustrious master at their annual meeting in December, 1896. He received the degrees of Fort Wayne Grand Lodge of Perfection in November, 1894.

Mr. McNutt is a charter member of Shiloh chapter, No. 141, O. E. S. He has studied Masonry closely and is popular among his brothers in the fraternity, as well as elsewhere. He at present holds a responsible position as foreman for the Consolidated Street Railway company.

Frank E. Stouder, secretary of Summit City Lodge, No. 170, F. & A. M., was born in Fairfield county, Ohio, thirty years ago, and, at the age of ten, came to this city with his parents, where he has resided ever since. He was educated in the public schools, and, on the completion of the Masonic Temple theater, in 1883, was installed in the box office. Mr. Stouder acted as Mr. Simonson's assistant in the management of the Temple until the expiration of the Temple company's lease in 1894. The Temple company not desiring to continue the business he associated himself with N. S. Smith and leased the theater for a term of years. Of his success as a manager little need be said. The attractions presented in this city are the best on the road, and no place of the same population in the United States can boast of better theatrical performances. When not engaged in active business Mr. Stouder spends his time in the study of music, and, as a vocalist, has made quite a reputation for himself, not only in Fort Wayne, but throughout this state and Ohio. He was initiated a member of Summit City Lodge, September 12, 1890, and shortly after took the degrees of the Fort Wayne lodge of Perfection and Indiana council, Princes of Jerusalem, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite. He also became a member of Fort Wayne chapter, Royal Arch Masons and Fort Wayne council, Royal and Select Masters. A year later he was dubbed and created a Knight Templar in Fort Wayne commandery, No. 4. He was appointed secretary of Summit City lodge early in 1893, to fill the unexpired term of George Spencer, resigned, and since then has been chosen each year to fill the position, which is one of the most important in the lodge. Mr. Stouder has been instrumental with the brethren of his lodge in upbuilding one of the most prosperous bodies of blue lodge Masons in Indiana. The membership of Summit City lodge at its last annual meeting was 257, or nearly 100 more than the next largest blue lodge in Fort Wayne.

FRANK E. STOUDER,
Secretary of Summit City Lodge No. 170, F. & A. M.

D. OF H.

No. 2 is as wide awake as ever and the membership keeps right on growing. The literary and musical program which has become a regular feature with this lodge has been the means of bringing out a large attendance at every meeting, and has awakened an interest which promises to make the winter season a profitable one for the lodge.

KNIGHTS.

At the next meeting of Fort Wayne commandery No. 4 the matter of attending the next triennial conclave next year will be brought up. A large number of members always attend the conclaves and the next one will not be an exception. The conclave will be held at Pittsburg.

Fort Wayne lodge of Perfection will have a fall convocation probably in November. There will be a large class.

K. OF THE G. E.

Good people, do not think that the eagles are dead for they are not. You can hear them scream in the Red Man's wigwam, on Calhoun and Berry streets, every Tuesday evening. Next week they will confer the first degree on a class of ten. All visiting eagles will be made welcome. The entertainment committee is making arrangements to give a series of entertainments the coming season.

K. OF P.

Phoenix lodge No. 101 will have one candidate for the rank of page next Monday evening. He will be E. C. Dalman, the popular conductor on the Consolidated street railway.

At the last meeting of Phoenix lodge the question of the purchase of the Y. M. C. A. building was brought up and it was decided to abandon the idea. The members of this lodge, as well as of Fort Wayne No. 116, are heartily in favor of building a Pythian home and will carry the project through as soon as a suitable building can be procured at a satisfactory price.

Fort Wayne lodge No. 116 will have two candidates next Tuesday.

I. O. O. F.

The district meeting of the I. O. O. F. was held in the Temple, at Peru, yesterday afternoon. At 10:30 Grand Patriarch J. E. Bodine gave a reception which was a remarkably fine affair. At 1:30 the patriarchal degree was conferred by Ebronish encampment of Wabash, and an address delivered by J. F. Mann, of Decatur. At 3:30 the encampment school of instruction was conducted by Edward Farrer, of Rushville, General Bodine, and other grand officers. Last evening the golden rule degree was conferred by Cass encampment of Logansport, and at 8 the royal purple degree by Kokomo encampment.

A NEW ORDER.

The Modern American Fraternal Order is the name of a new lodge to be organized in this city in a few days. It is an order for men and women. Messrs. Lew Ulrey and Benjamin Denner are at present here working up a charter membership, and they say they are meeting with good success.

The plan to arrive at the objects of the order is:

First—A ritual that brings out the salient features of early colonial and national history in such a way as to develop in bold relief the fundamentals—liberty, equality and justice.

Second—A monthly payment, made whether a death occurs or not, fixed at a figure that will pay death claims and produce a surplus and a reserve fund. The policies are graded as in the Ben Hur Order and the assessments are uniform for all ages.

FRATERNAL MYSTIC CIRCLE.

The entertainment and social given by the Fort Wayne Ruling, No. 662, last Thursday evening, was a grand success socially and financially. Five hundred tickets were sold and over 250 were in attendance. The program proved to be a great success, as every one was well pleased with it. Mrs. Emma Kress and Master Roy Kress did splendidly. Miss Pearl Gay, Curry sisters and the Seabold sisters and Mand[?] din club were called back time after time. Mr. Grimes in his remarks said the order would be thirteen years old in December, that he had organized Fort Wayne Ruling about two months and had written sixty people. The charter will be open for ten days. Everyone went away well pleased and many wanted to know when the F. M. C. would give another entertainment.

SEMINOLE LEAGUE.

The members of the Seminole League are requested to be present at a meeting tonight at their hall. Business of importance will be transacted. Edward Fleischer, state deputy from Philadelphia, will be here.

A. O. U. W.

There will be initiatory work at the meeting of No. 33 Thursday evening and the meeting will be otherwise interesting. It is likely that a debate will be arranged for, the subject to be "Resolved, that the admission of social members would be a benefit to the order." A committee will also be appointed to arrange for an entertainment and social to be given in the near future.

[illegible]

This is a new lodge, not yet two years old, and has a membership of 200. It is an order that has for its object the bettering of mankind. Every meeting night there is a special musical and literary program which is highly appreciated by all the members and makes everybody feel that that it is to their interest to attend. The social that was given on the 21st was a success and delighted every one. There were two initiations last Tuesday night, and two applications received. This lodge now works under a new charter.

CHOSEN FRIENDS.

The supreme council of Chosen Friends, which was in session in Louisville a few days ago, elected officers for the coming two years as follows:

Supreme councillor, M. H. Morse, New York; supreme assistant councillor, L. A. Stober, St. Louis; supreme vice councillor, L. W. Mott, California; supreme recorder, T. B. Linn, Indianapolis; supreme treasurer, W. B. Wilson, Newark, N. J.; supreme medical examiner, Dr. Henry Jameson, Indianapolis; supreme prelate, Rev. T. G. Beharrell, New Albany; supreme marshal, David Sanders, San Antonio; supreme warden, S. W. Knight, Cleveland; supreme guard, C. C. Williams, New York; supreme sentry, S. K. Wagoner, Philadelphia.

UNIFORM RANK K. OF P.

"In all probability the Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias of Kokomo will surrender its charter, the time expiring today for the payment of dues, and no action will be taken in the matter. At one time this spring there were indications that the rank would be reorganized with many new members and that Kokomo would again be the home of the 'crack' uniform rank of the United States, but interest was lacking and the boys quit."

The above, from the Frankfort Crescent, expresses but half the fact. Not only is the uniform rank dead in Kokomo, but it is dead in every direction as well. This once beautiful and powerful adjunct to a popular secret society has seen the day of its greatest glory, and is now in the sere and yellow leaf of its existence. Everywhere there is the same inactivity manifested as to the keeping up of this branch of Pythianism. Many divisions or as they are now officially known, "companies" of the uniform rank which a few years ago were hard at drill and almost perfect in the execution of the tactics of the order, are now disbanded and disorganized.

MODERN WOODMEN.

Fort Wayne camp 4781 had quite a large attendance last Friday evening. Oyster season being at hand, the question of an old-fashioned oyster supper was discussed, and a committee was appointed to arrange for a grand old supper in the near future. Neighbor Lichtenwalter, clerk of Edwards camp 3127, was a friendly visitor and gave quite an interesting talk on woodcraft. Much credit is due Neighbor Lichtenwalter for time and energy in building up his camp. Our worthy escort, F. M. Reuser, was reported sick and confined to his bed. Quite an interesting program awaits us for Friday night, when a noted violin soloist will favor us with several selections.

Edwards camp, No. 3127, Modern Woodmen, met in regular session last Tuesday and received two applications for membership. This order is growing rapidly throughout the territory to which it is restricted.

A camp of Royal Neighbors, an auxiliary to the Woodmen, has been organized here, and Edwards camp has tendered them their hall, where they will meet next Thursday evening for the first regular session.

MARKETING IN PARIS.

People Buy in Homeopathic Quantities in Many Different Places.

As it is more and more the tendency among Americans to select some specialty of profession, the same proclivity is displayed here in a rude way among provision dealers. The butcher sells only beef, mutton and lamb. The tripier has sole claim to the head, brains, liver, heart, feet, etc. If one wishes fowl, he must go to the fruiterer, and there are others who have the monopoly of game. If two men hire a store in the same building, the goods of one cannot be like those of his neighbor. With this brief suggestion of the divisions, it is easy to see that marketing becomes something more than giving an order over a telephone wire.

The streets in the morning are quite filled with women making their daily purchases. Nearly every woman carries a basket or net bag. Since fruit and vegetables seldom have paper, the latter discloses much of her bill of fare. Being obliged to go to each store, she generally carries her groceries. But they may be delivered by a boy who balances a flat basket on his head and often reads a newspaper on his way. He would make a good messenger boy. The greater part of trading is done outside the store at low counters or with street vendors. To their carts is attached a harness which either monsieur or madame slips over the shoulders. The women's voices as they call their wares are fearfully vibrant and heavy. Those must have been terrible sounds given by the starving market women when they assailed the palace at Versailles. The loud cry of one advertising her goods makes the stranger shudder.

Other women, in contrast to these, are those who sell fish in the great wholesale markets. They are rich. They wear a bonnet with real lace, and true diamonds glitter on their unclean, odorous hands. Their dress is of excellent material, covered with a white apron.

The baker with a suit of white is patronized for bread at least by nearly every family in Paris. It is found in all shapes and varieties. Just before it is taken from the oven steam is turned in upon it, giving a very brown crust. It is said that France has been famed for its bread since the seventeenth century. It seems very possible, if one were to judge the date of the make from the hardness of its crust. The French breakfast consists of a roll and a cup of coffee. These were our first sentiments about the custom:

The workmen, who have 12 hours a day of labor, take a roll or two for the second meal as well, with a supplement at "the seller of wines." Children at play eat bread as "young America" eats candy and chews gum. Passersby carry bread, without a wrapping, under the arm or in work aprons, or a child measures his length with a long, narrow stick of it. A partial loaf has often with it one thick slice added to make the weight exact. But it must be a fastidious person who insists on having his bread done up in paper.—Pauline Cushing in Zion's Herald.

To Render Iron Weatherproof.

Countless attempts have been made to deal with the rust problem in iron structures. A new process has been suggested which consists in treating the iron with a solution of ferrocyanide. This forms a coating of cyanide of iron that is stated to be uniform and impermeable and of such a nature as to effectively protect the iron so covered. The solution is mixed with a linseed varnish, to which has been added a little turpentine or benzol, so as to cause a very homogeneous emulsion, which can be applied without difficulty. The evaporation of the alcohol leaves the linseed varnish, which forms a coat and protects the cyanide of iron which is deposited upon the metal. The iron requires no preparation for this treatment beyond removing any rust that may already have been formed and which may be too thick to admit of the action of the ferrocyanide.—Industries and Iron.

"Why," exclaimed Jove angrily, "are you letting that miserable shade gamble all that nectar? He'll have our vitals in a minute."

"He said, your majesty," replied Mercury eagerly, "that if I'd let him in he'd show us a nectar fit for the gods."

Perceiving that the spectacle bore the earmarks of impromptu vaudeville, the king of gods and men whooped loudly for the other deities.—New York Press.

"I reckon I was, your honor. I was trying to keep out of the way of a delivery wagon that was going at the rate of 13 miles an hour."

The advantage of a policeman over a burglar is that the law of force has the law on his side. He also has the same advantage over disease. The Law of Nature is for people to be healthy. When they are sick, Nature tries to cure them. Nature's law is the guide in curing sick people. There is only Nature's way. What the doctors call many different diseases Nature cures in one way; by nourishing the whole body with good, pure, rich, red blood. That is Nature's way of curing scrofula, erysipelas, kidney and "liver complaint," consumption and every form of eruptive and wasting disease. When you want to help Nature with medicine the medicine must work the same way as Nature works, then it has the laws of Nature on its side to make it powerful. That is the secret of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery's wonderful cures. It assists Nature according to her own laws, it is on Nature's side and Nature helps it; it imparts new power to the nutritive and blood making organs to create a large quantity of fresh, red, healthy blood which drives every germ of disease out of the system and builds up strong healthy tissues and solid flesh. The "Discovery" completely clears away every form of blood disease from the system. It even cures consumption. It is the only true [illegible] cure for that disease; facts and testimony to prove it.

"I would like to tell the whole world what your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has done for me. The doctor, who is considered an expert on lung troubles, told me I had consumption. He said both my lungs were diseased and I could not live long. I felt down hearted for I have three little children to live for. I just went to him to get his opinion. I am glad I did for now I know what your medicine will do. When I started on the second bottle I was better in every way and was able to take a walk on every fine day. I enjoyed my sleep, my appetite was good, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I began to feel like a new woman. I still had a cough so I got a third bottle and by the time it was half gone I was completely cured."

A GAME OF CARDS.

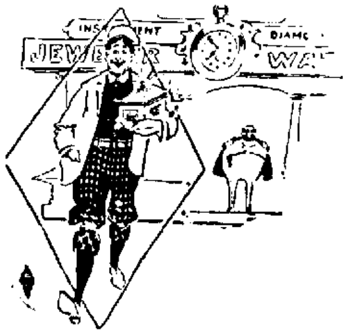
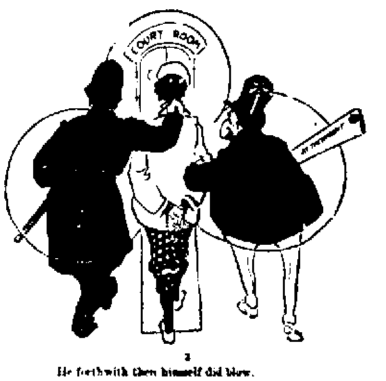
This golfing girl men tried to woo
With names and fortunes not a few—
Our hero was a nameless swain
Whose labors ne'er had brought him gain.
Yet for the maid his heart did thump,
What could he do when hearts were trump?



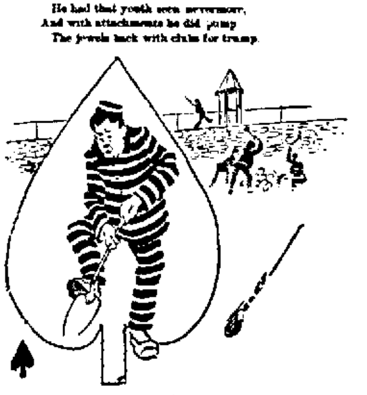
2

He straightway to the city speeds
And there an advertisement reads,
Wherein diamonds rare and glittering gold
Are on installment methods sold.
He said, "I'll buy a goodly lump"
And won the maid with diamonds trump.



3

He forthwith then himself did blow,
And on the maiden did bestow
Rare gifts, but then the merchant swore
He had that youth seen nevermore,
And with attachments he did jump
The jewels back with clubs for trump.



4

In vain he pled in piteous tone
To melt the judge's heart of stone,
And harder yet, the maid ne'er wept,
But closer to his rival crept
And said, she not did care a hump,
For love is cold when spades are trump.

Since leaving college he has been engaged as a machinist in the Wabash shops at Springfield. He is a bright young man, and has a very promising future. WILL CHANGE DIVISION TERMINALS.

Butler, Ind., is likely to become a division terminal on the Lake Shore road, if indications point in the right direction. Yesterday a party of officials of that company were at that town looking over the grounds and making inquiries which led the citizens to believe that they had in view the removal of the terminal from Toledo to that point. It is also believed the Lake Shore contemplates acquiring control of the Eel River road when the Wabash is forced to relinquish that line, which will be in the near future.

NEW TABLE OF RATES.

The managers of the Joint Traffic association have recommended a new table of rates on grain and grain products from Buffalo and the Niagara frontier to eastern points. Divisions in rates on traffic from points forwarded via Paducah, Ky., and the Illinois Central railroad were also established.

A percentage basis for east-bound rates from North Indianapolis, Ind., was made at 93 per cent. of Chicago-New York rates. Numerous other rates were made, chiefly on east-bound traffic. Commodity rates were made on live stock, iron, building materials, etc., from and to points in Ohio and Indiana.

SHORT OF ENGINES.

So heavy is traffic on the Pittsburg road at present that the company is short of motive power. This morning two trains which had been made up during the night were unable to get out until nearly noon because there were no engines to haul them. This state of affairs has existed for several days and if it continues may result beneficially to the men who are engaged in the work of repairing engines. For several days they have been working full time.

ANKLE BROKEN.

Charles Rosenmeyer, a lumber handler at the Pittsburg yards, had the bones of his right ankle broken this morning by being struck by a piece of timber which rebounded when thrown from the car. The unfortunate man was removed to his home, 65 Charles street, where the fracture was reduced by Dr. George C. Stemen.

SOMEWHAT OF AN EXCURSION.

The Jay county fair is in progress at Portland this week and never in the history of the exposition has the attendance been as great as at the present session. This morning the Grand Rapids and Indiana road delivered 1,500 people at Portland, most of them being farmers or citizens of the towns lying along the line of that railway in Jay and adjoining counties.

BRAKEMAN CLEMENS HURT.

While rearranging a freight train in the east yards last night so as to get those cars having air brakes in the front end of the train, Harry Clemens was caught between the deadwoods and badly hurt. Some of the yardmen witnessed the accident and hastened to the assistance of the unfortunate, who was picked up and removed to his boarding house, 258 South Clinton street. Dr. George C. Stemen was called to attend the man, whom he found to be suffering from a fracture of the right shoulder blade and pains throughout the lower portion of the body, which the doctor said might indicate that Clemens had also sustained some internal injuries, the extent of which would not develop for a day or two.

MINOR MENTION.

C. J. Smith, the Nickel Plate brakeman who was injured by a street car two weeks ago, resumed his train duties yesterday.

Nickel Plate Conductor Brombaugh and Brakeman G. Olmstead are taking a few days lay off to attend to some private matters.

There were turned out of the Wabash shops this week engines 62, 6, 19, 204 and 252, and taken in for repairs engines 105, 273 and 41.

On Saturday last the Columbus and Hocking Valley road had its banner day in coal shipments, hauling 338 carloads of coal billed to Toledo.

J. Ulrich, a truck repairer at the east car shops, lost a finger in a most peculiar manner this morning. In rolling trucks his hand got between the flanges of two of the wheels and one of the fingers was cut off completely. Dr. Stemen was called to attend the sufferer.

Mrs. Frank Opolz, wife of the well known blacksmith in the Pittsburg shops, and her two children will go to Indianapolis tomorrow to spend several days with her parents.

Charles Brecking, of the electric works, had the little finger of his left hand mashed this morning by getting it caught in the cogs of a machine which he was operating.

Roadmaster Adams has two forces of men at work laying new heavy rails on the Wabash main track. One party is on the east end and the other is now working west from Andrews.

Peru Journal: "Engineer J. E. Filde, who has been running an engine at Fort Wayne, has been returned to this city and hereafter will run between this city and Montpelier."

The meeting of the Electric Light's Relief union tonight will be an important one and it is very necessary that the attendance be large. The by-laws will be distributed at this meeting.

Several of the wood working machines which are to form the equipment of the Wabash's new carpenter shop are in position ready for operation, and the others will be set up next week.

Frank Schram, a machinist who has been employed for many years at the Pittsburg round house, is lying dangerously ill with lung trouble. He has been unable to work for nearly two months.

Medical Examiner E. F. Wagner, of the Pennsylvania's relief department, will leave Saturday night for Pennsylvania to join and accompany his wife home. Mrs. Wagner has been in the Keystone state for two or three weeks.

Benjamin Pettit has accepted the office of superintendent of an electric plant at Wellsville, Ohio, and left last night for that city to assume the duties. For some time Mr. Pettit has been employed in the electric works in this city and is perfectly familiar with the work he will be called upon to perform in his new position.

The Pennsylvania company ran an excursion train down to Monroeville this morning for the accommodation of those wishing to attend the silver meetin. Two hundred and seventy six of our citizens went on this train and a number more went down on the noon train. The proceedings of the meeting are given in our local columns.

Last night, the testing department of the electric works was kept in operation until a late hour, testing the large 8,000 light machine recently built under Mr. Wood's direction and which will soon be shipped to the parties for whom it was made. This wonderful dynamo stood the severe tests to which it was subjected in a most satisfactory manner.

A contract has been signed between the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company and the Detroit and Michigan Ferry company for the operation of a system of ferries between Sandusky, Detroit and Windsor.

The Chicago and Eastern Illinois is already feeling the good effects of the resumption of coal traffic since the miners' strike was declared off. In the third week of September the road earned $93,000, an increase over the corresponding week of 1897 of $9,300.

The experiment of firing locomotives with oil instead of wood at the Baltimore and Ohio shops at Washington, Ind., has proved so much of a success that the plan will be adopted at the several engine houses and arrangements made to use oil conveniently.

The Pennsylvania officials, on the coming annual inspection will probably settle the matter of the proposed changes in freight house and shops in this city. A new freight house at Indianapolis is also contemplated and its fate will be decided by the officials on this trip.

Trainmen on the Detroit, Toledo and Milwaukee road are considerably exercised over an order to the effect that after October 1 they will be paid by the day instead of on mileage runs—twelve hours to constitute a day's work. Engineers are to be paid $2.85 and firemen $1.50, which it is claimed is a reduction of 25 per cent. on their present wages.

Indianapolis Journal: "The building of a line from Evansville to a connection with the Indianapolis and Vincennes road is being quietly agitated. It is claimed that such a road would be one of the best paying roads running into Indianapolis. Evansville and Fort Wayne are two very important points in the state, but to reach either from this city one must take a roundabout route."

P. M. Arthur, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; F. P. Sargent, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; J. B. Finnan, second grand chief of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, and C. W. Wilkins, assistant grand master of the Order of Railway Conductors, were at Connellsville, Pa., on Sunday last, and addressed several hundred railroad men. The subject of consolidating the orders was discussed, but no definite action was taken.

South Whitley News: "Val Brown, one of the most successful business men of Whitley county, and also one of the leading lumber merchants, has conceived the idea that he can haul logs with an engine, to a better advantage than with teams. He has contracted with a Fort Wayne firm to build him an iron horse propelled by gasoline. It is to be fifteen horse power and to be geared to run eight miles an hour without a load and four miles an hour when drawing a load. The engine will be ready for its first trial in a few weeks. The result will be watched with much interest."

The grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will meet in St. Louis in a few days with Missouri Pacific railroad officials to discuss the recent discharge of a large number of freight brakemen. A secret meeting under Vice Grand Master Lee, of Galesburg, Ill., was held at Nevada, Mo., last Sunday. The brotherhood feels confident the men will be reinstated, as several of the discharged brakemen were not on the trains that carried the spotters who were beating their way on freight trains. There is considerable dissatisfaction among the employes and, should the controversy not be amicably settled, it is feared there will be a strike.

There is still some doubts as to who is the best bicyclist among the many riders in the employ of the Electric corporation. The championship rests upon either William Wurtle or Frank Getts, and it was to have been decided last evening but an accident to one of the contestants postponed the matter to some future date. Messrs. Wurtle and Getts met at Swinney park at 9 o'clock last night for the purpose of having a race, but had only gotten under good headway when Mr. Wurtle's wheel struck a lot of loose gravel and that gentleman went sprawling in the dust. In the fall one side of his face was badly skinned and both eyes were so filled with sand that further racing was out of the question and the event was called off.

NOT A GOOD BANK.

She Could See That One Moment the Money Was Mixed.

"A woman opening a bank account for the first time is a peculiar creature," said one of the clerks in a national bank. "One came in a few days ago and glanced around suspiciously. Then she sidled up to the window and said:

"'If you please, I want to deposit some money.'

"'Yes'm. Just go to the next window.'

"She stepped over in a careful way, as if she was breaking some rule or other, and asked in a whisper:

"'Is this where they deposit money?'

"'Yes, ma'am. Do you wish to open an account?'

"'Oh, no,' she said, 'I don't want to have anything charged! I just want to deposit my money. Is this bank really safe?'

"She was assured that it was.

"'This bank is as firm as Gibraltar, madam. You have come to the right place. We will have to have your autograph. Just write your name right there.'

"'Oh, I can't write without a stub pen! Haven't you got a stub pen and some mucilage ink?'

"She was fitted out, and in the most careful way imaginable she wrote out her full name. Then she was provided with a deposit book, which she looked at in an inquiring way. She produced her money, hung on to it for a minute and then handed it in, all rolled up and tied with a thread. The receiving teller counted it in a rapid way and threw it in with the other receipts.

"'Now,' she said, 'this ain't a good bank. You've just gone and thrown my money in with all the rest, and you can never pick it out again. Take your old book and give me my money, and scratch my name off that big autograph album. Mother said you couldn't tell anything about a bank.'

"She was given her little roll, the autograph was scratched off and the deposit book destroyed. She flounced out in a decisive way, as much as to say, 'They can't cheat me, if I am a woman.'"—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

All Gone but Honor.

There was a look of despair on his face as he entered the room and threw himself on the lounge, while moans broke from his lips.

His wife saw at once that something dreadful had happened.

"Ah, darling," he gasped, "have pity on me!"

She was almost speechless with terror, but she managed to ask, "What—what can it be?"

"'Twasn't my fault," he moaned, "but I—we are penniless!"

"Penniless!" she repeated in a dazed sort of way. "Penniless! Oh, my husband! But I am a true wife. I can go back to typewriting. We shall not starve. Only tell me this: You have not been gambling—you have not been speculating, and, though penniless, you have done naught to tarnish your honor?"

"Nothing — nothing," he replied, with an effort.

"Then trust me!" she cried. "Tell me where your money has gone to?"

The wretched man placed his arm about her, and, drawing her closer, gasped, "I have paid the gas bill."—New York Sunday World.

Expansion of Rails.

Some years ago, before railroad building had reached its present scientific basis, a train on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road, which was running at what was at that time a very high rate of speed, met with a most unusual accident. It was an intensely hot day in August. Those who are acquainted with that country are willing to admit that the degree of heat sometimes experienced in that region is little short of the boiling pitch. The rails were heated, and as the heavy train passed over them they seemed to almost give way under the weight. Suddenly the engineer saw the track ahead of him rise from the roadbed, swing out of line, then slowly settle down on the level prairie in an almost perfect curve. The ties and rails were not disconnected, but seemed merely to have lifted themselves up to fall in a more comfortable position. The train was stopped, and after a thorough examination it was deemed safe enough for the train to pass over, which it did, moving very slowly and cautiously. Experts visited the place as soon as possible and declared that the incident was due to the expansion of the rails. Their ends touched, and, there being no room for lengthwise extension, they had no choice but to lift themselves and form a curve. It is probable that the jarring of the train assisted in this matter, the vibrations possibly starting the sidewise movement. At all events it was a most peculiar and interesting incident.—New York Ledger.

Dust Baths.

All animals have a natural tendency to cleanliness. The hog, the common type of filth, is not by any means so dirty as we would suppose if given an opportunity to be clean, and in this he needs only as much assistance from man as a horse demands. The result will prove his natural tendency to cleanliness. The hen has aversion to bathing in water. Her substitute is the dust bath, which answers the same purpose for cleaning her feathers. A dust bath is very essential to the health of all fowls. In winter, when the outside ground is frozen hard, a substitute should be provided in the shape of a box filled with dry sand mixed with coal ashes or road dust. Watch your hens on a bright, sunny day in winter and see how they enjoy this bath. They pick the dust into their feathers, roll first on one side, then on the other and seem to sift the dry dirt into every part of their feathered coat. It cleanses them and frees them from their mortal enemy, the lice. One would suppose that hen lice were very clean themselves, since they have such a dread of dirt, and it is true they cannot exist where dirt or dust abounds. The dust bath is therefore very necessary for the health and happiness of your fowls. It should be placed where the sun can shine into it. This makes it attractive, and your hens will soon avail themselves of it.—Country Gentleman.

WONDERFUL!

A Christian Physician Who Tries to Make Men Better in Body and Soul.

Affidavits From the Minister and Lawyer. Dr. N. B. Smith, No. 107 Calhoun Street.

It is doubtful if the columns of any newspaper in the state ever recorded a more wonderful restoration of health than that of Mrs. A. J. Augustine as a result of a medical treatment by Dr. N. B. Smith, of Fort Wayne. Her attorney informs us that he considers it a miracle, as she certainly was considered in a hopeless condition mentally and physically.

We will give Mr. Augustine's statement just as he gave it to us:

"I have been married fifteen years and our home has been made happy by five children. My wife had enjoyed good health until about five years ago. She was taken then with an attack of rheumatism, which soon produced heart disease. I noticed that she was getting weaker and that her nervous system was very much broken down. I took her to the Hot Springs, in Arkansas, where we staid six months, but she got no better. We then returned home and again tried our family physician, but my wife got no better. She became very yellow and could neither eat or sleep. She said her existence was full of misery and prayed for death to relieve her of her sufferings. Dropsy now set in and she became almost completely helpless. Her mind began to fail and I was requested to send her to the insane asylum, but this I would not do. I could not find it in my heart to send her away when I believed that she would soon die. One of my friends induced me at this time to call on Dr. N. B. Smith, the eminent specialist of our city. I did so. After a careful examination of her he stated that he could cure her. I confess I had no confidence in any doctor, but decided to do anything for my wife that could be done. The doctor began his treatment and in a short time we all saw an improvement in my wife's condition. Her dropsy disappeared, her heart got better, her mind clearer and stronger, her appetite improved and she slept better. I now consider my wife perfectly well and she owes her life and health to Dr. Smith."

Mr. Augustine's statement is attested to by the following affidavits:

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 20, 1897.

I hereby state, under oath, that the above statement of A. J. Augustine, is true to the best of my belief.

The above statement, as made by Mr. A. J. Augustine, as regards the past and present condition of his wife, and her restoration of health, by Dr. N. B. Smith, is true as I verily believe.

Last night there were four accessions to the membership of the Baptist church and two were baptized by Rev. L. L. Henson. The meetings are increasing in interest and influence. The revival at the northside mission is also accomplishing much. There were eleven professions of faith at the meeting last night.

He criticised her pudding and didn't like her cake; he wished she'd make the biscuits that his mother used to make; she didn't wash the dishes and didn't make a stew and she didn't mend his stockings as his mother used to do. Oh, well, she wasn't perfect, but she tried to do her best, until at last she thought the time had come for her to have a rest, so one day when he whined the whole day through, she turned him up and "fanned" his pants—as his mother used to do.—Ex.

Last night was a busy time for Pastor Henson, of the Baptist tabernacle. Immediately after supper he married a couple. He then went to the Northside mission, where he preached a short sermon and had the pleasure of witnessing eleven professions of faith. Hurrying back to the church he arrived before the covenant meeting was over and received four new members. After this he taught his class in the sacred literature course of more than 125 persons and closed the evening by baptizing a man and his wife, who happened to compose the entire household.

TO OUST A REPUBLICAN.

The Council Found a Chance and Did Not Lose It.

Cutting off of the Detective Appropriation Was [illegible]

From this morning's Gazette and published in THE SENTINEL by request of Dr. H. G. Niermann:

"The cutting off the appropriation for the pay of a detective for the police force was nothing more or less than a piece of spite work on the part of a member of the august board of city councilmen and the displacement of a republican who has rendered the city good service since he has been in the position.

"Some time ago Councilman Niermann was robbed of a rain coat and a revolver. It was at the time that a man named Rayhouser was employed as city detective. It is said by men who are in no way connected with the force and who have nothing to do with the management of the department, that after the robbery was committed a great injustice was done Mr. Coling, who at present holds the position of detective. A few days after the revolver and coat were stolen from the doctor it is said, Rayhouser went to him, and presenting a gun, asked him if it was his. The doctor identified the property as his, and the detective told him that he would see that he got it in a short time. In way of explanation he said that he had found the gun where the thieves had 'planted' it, and that it would be necessary for him to return it, so as to be able to catch the thieves when they returned to get it. For some reason the gun was not returned to the owner, and he made the statement that Coling had carried it around for six weeks. The gun is a heavy six shooter, like those usually carried in the saddle bags of a Texas ranger, and it would take the entire energies of an able bodied man to 'tote' it around. From some mysterious source the gun was later on brought to the office of the superintendent of police and then returned to the owner.

"It is said that Niermann had confounded Coling with Rayhouser, and, although he had been told the straight of it, he had refused to see it in the right light. He prevailed upon some of the balance of the councilmen who voted for the abolishment of the office to vote as they did. Those members of the body of city fathers who were not induced to vote in favor of ousting Coling on these grounds, no doubt, thought it was a good chance to get rid of a republican and they lost no time in casting their votes so that the money with which the man was to be paid was not forthcoming after the first of next year.

"When it became known yesterday that the council had taken the action to abolish the office of detective, there was great indignation expressed in all parts of the city by members of both parties, and the decision of the council was condemned in no easy terms. It was the opinion of many people that the move was a very wrong one on the part of the council to do away with the office, thereby depriving the city of the services of an officer who has done good work. Whether Mr. Coling holds the position or whether it is some one else, it is the opinion of many people in the city that a detective is needed here. Other cities in this vicinity even smaller than Fort Wayne have two, and in some places three city detectives.

"A telling effect of the action of the council was shown yesterday. A man who is in no way connected with the affairs of the city had occasion of being in a town a short distance from here. While at the depot waiting for the train to bring him back here he was accosted by a man who had a copy of the Gazette in his hand. The item of the proceedings of the council were marked with a blue pencil. The man from this city was talked to by the man holding the paper, who said that he noticed that the services of the city detective had been dispensed with here. The Fort Waynite said that the order would not go in to effect until after the first of the year. There was a look of disappointment on the face of the man with the paper. He said that he thought it would be the proper thing for this city not to have a detective from yesterday morning on. The man who made the inquiry is known to be a good all-round thief, and it was learned later that the paper was sent to him by a man in this city who has been under arrest a number of times here for carrying off things that were the property of other people. That is only a little illustration that the crooked people of the country watch the newspapers and see where they can do work and not be molested. This city has been free from dangerous men for some time."

IN CAR LOAD LOTS.

That is the Way the Fort Wayne Organ Company Are Receiving Orders for Packard Pianos and Organs.

In the past ten days the Fort Wayne Organ company have received orders and shipped five car loads of Packard pianos and organs, three car loads of which were for export trade—one going to Hamburg, Germany, one to London, England, and one Algoa Bay, South Africa.

The great favor with which these superb instruments are meeting, not only in this country but abroad, is the best proof of their superiority that can be offered, and should be very gratifying to the Fort Wayne Organ company and the citizens of Fort Wayne, as it places our city in the foremost rank as producers of high grade pianos and organs.

At their retail store, 170 Calhoun street, we learn that they have sold double the number of Packard pianos and organs during the month of September than have been sold any month since this branch of the business has been inaugurated. No better and handsomer stock of pianos and organs are to be found anywhere than there and all who are thinking of purchasing a piano or organ will do well to see and examine them.

Aristocrat and Democrat In France.

In the course of an article on "Royalists and Republicans" in The Century Baron Pierre de Coubertin says: "It is difficult for Americans to understand the march of political events in France and their details because they lose sight of the struggle between the aristocrat and the democrat. One must have been a spectator of this struggle to comprehend its effects. Many of those who still have monarchical beliefs will only admit that the great rural proprietors, or at most the great industrial magnates and the great bankers, can have the pretension to govern their country. The idea that a lawyer, a doctor, a journalist, has any right to sit in the chamber or the senate seems to them absurd. And as for this lawyer, this doctor, this journalist, being called upon, for instance, to receive the emperor of Russia in the name of France, that is what they absolutely cannot understand."

An Awkward Slip.

An awkward slip was made by the coadjutor of the archbishop of Cambrai, who preached a beautiful sermon over the body of his vicar general, praising the great charity of the man, who had entered the priesthood poor and had died still poorer. The next day the vicar general's will was made public. After dividing [illegible] francs among his brothers and nephews he left 450,000 francs to the archbishop, the money being his savings while in office.

THE CHIN AS AN INDEX.

A Face Reader Tells What He Thinks of Some Men's Features.

When a face reader was asked for his opinion of an article, "The Chin as an Index," printed in the St. Louis Clinique, he replied:

"This thing is unscientific. The writer says the protruding chin marks the get there type of man, that the broad chin denotes dignity, that the dimpled chin indicates coquettishness, that the retreating chin is the chin of failure and that the other kinds of chins which he credits stand for the other traits of character which he associates with them. His statements are unsupported by proofs or illustrations from life or from pictured art. Had he given the names of people, notable historical persons rather than contemporaries, having chins of the several varieties spoken of, his description of the traits of their possessors would have been more entertaining, for in each case present readers could have formed his own opinion as to the correspondence between the feature and the mental quality which he seeks to associate with it. Caesar, for example, Cromwell and Peter the Great were certainly men of the get there type, but he would hardly say that they had protruding chins.

"So also, in regard to the other kinds of chins, from the dignified and the coquettish to the executive and the humble, I would say, let him look up the portraits of some of the parties whose chins give confirmation to his theory. My own study of the pictured features of the eminent men of past and present times has led me to believe that a face reader must be very wary when he makes remarks upon the chin as an index to character. I could refer you to the features of plenty of men who are yet among the living. Li Hung Chang is not very yielding or helpless or easily discouraged, yet no one who ever saw him failed to observe that he has a retreating chin—one which retreats almost out of sight, so that not even his best friend would speak of it as protruding. What about that? Again, it will be admitted that Bismarck belongs to the get there type of humanity, and yet his chin falls behind the frontal line and also the line of the under lip. It is far from protrudent. Look at the chin of the pugilist Fitzsimmons.

"I could take up all of the kinds of chins described in The Clinique's article and show you that plenty of the people who have any one of the kinds do not possess the mental or moral character set down over against it by the writer in that periodical, who must be a very poor sort of face reader.

"There are physiognomists who, after studying a man's features from his chin and nose to his upper story, can make a pretty fair guess as to the nature of his invisible traits, but they cannot always be sure that they get things right, and everybody knows that they often get things wrong, more especially when they have not previously had any knowledge of the man's life or idiosyncrasies.

"I repeat that it is very hard to get at the characteristics of any one's mind by his chin, and, in truth, it is not easy to get at them by any or all of the lineaments of his face. Many a great man has had features which would very surely lead the sharpest physiognomist to draw erroneous conclusions from them. Who, upon seeing the face of Thomas Carlyle, without knowing of his works, would ever have taken him to be the great thinker that he was?

"There have been plenty of heroes whose looks were misleading, and lots of poets whose features could not be made to rhyme, and some saints whose faces would never remind you of a cherub, and any number of other people between whose facial conformation and mental traits it would be impossible to trace the correspondence. I know a strong character who has a neck of no account, an unshapely mouth, inexpressive eyes, a narrow brow and not much of a chin. You could not guess what kind of a soul he had by looking at him. A witty writer once said that if Cleopatra's nose had been shorter the face of the world might have been changed, and perhaps it might. Look at that feature in Socrates or in some of the mummied Egyptians who were once lords of the Nile, or in several of the English kings, or in nearly all the illustrious Chinese, or in most of the [illegible], or in squads of the German princes. I have seen a picture of Captain Kidd, once famous as a pirate, and it seemed, when carefully scanned, as though genius were there. It was said of Mirabeau that he was ugly enough to be the nephew of the Old Serpent. Thus things were, and thus they are yet. So it goes all along in history and all through the inscrutable appearances of time.

"You had better throw into your waste basket the article of the inconsequential speculator in The Clinique who talks about chins."—New York Sun.

The "Eastern Shore."

Ex-Senator Gibson of Maryland is from the "eastern shore," the garden spot of earth, according to the belief of some, but unhappily this belief is not shared by all who live or have lived there, as the following story, which Senator Gibson amusingly related the other evening, is good evidence. An old man was sworn in court as a witness. "How old are you?" asked the counsel. "Fifteen, sir," responded the witness. "Fifteen!" queried the counsel incredulously. "I protest, your honor. This witness must be simple. He looks 60." "How old are you, sir?" asked the judge sternly. "I am 65, yer honor," answered the man humbly, "but I never counts the 50 years I lived over on the eastern shore."—New York Tribune.
